Re: Manuscript # 4378

Dear sirs,

my name is Frances Perricone and I am a professional English language editor. I am a native English speaker who was born and educated in Canada. I currently live in Italy and have been proof-reading and editing medical papers for over 20 years. I have vast experience in several areas of medicine and am considered a well- qualified proof-reader.

I did the initial editing of this paper, and it has now been further reviewed and edited. I am confident that it presently meets your requirements as a Grade A paper.
