Dear Dr Dou

RE: Request for language certificate letter by professional English language editing company, for manuscript '45614' submitted to the World Journal of Orthopedics (Anterior cruciate ligament reconstruction using a double bundle hamstring autograft configuration in patients under 30 years).

As an author on the aforementioned manuscript, I can confirm that all authors (including myself as a Lecturer and academic professional at the University of Western Australia) have reviewed the manuscript for language specific to the nature and scope of the subject.

In the absence of a specific 'Certificate of English Language' as requested, our hope is that this authentication will suffice to meet the journals requirements for such a review process.

Yours sincerely
