

February 21, 2019

To Whom It May Concern,

The manuscript, Prevalence of anal fistula in the United Kingdom, which is being submitted to the World Journal of Gastroenterology was written by a native English speaker and further re-read by native English speakers including Naomi Boxall and other co-authors. Naomi was awarded a PhD in Veterinary Science (Epidemiology), Masters in Veterinary Studies and a BSc. in Biochemistry and Genetics from Massey University in New Zealand. Naomi has written and published over 30 papers, abstracts and posters in her native English language.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Naomi Boxall', with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Naomi Boxall, PhD

Director of Epidemiology

Real World Insights, London

IQVIA