

Informed consent:

Written informed consent was not necessary because the study was performed retrospectively by screening patient files.