To whom it may concern,

I, Diarmuid De Faoite, born and raised as an English-speaker in Ireland reviewed the article titled "Cost-analysis of inpatient and outpatient parenteral antimicrobial therapy in orthopaedics: a systematic literature review". After revision, I consider this article to be Grade A from an English language perspective.

I have well over a decade's experience in editing and have worked as a medical writer.

I am available to answer any follow-up questions you may have.

Regards
Diarmuid De Faoite
