

BIOSTATISTICS STATEMENT

Lisbon, 04 April 2019

Title: Quality of life, work impairment and healthcare resources in the management of IBD in Brazil: results from the RISE BR study

Corresponding Author: Rogerio Serafim Parra, MD, PhD

The statistical methods of this study were performed and reviewed at our Biostatistics Department of Eurotrials Scientific Consultants, now part of CTI Clinical Trial & Consulting Services.

Statistical methods in this study are adequate and appropriate for the study objectives and results.

Vera Vicente

Senior Statistician, Global Biometrics Biostatistics

CTI Clinical Trial & Consulting Services

w: (351) 21 382 54 40 | vvicente@ctifacts.com

Rua Tierno Galvan, Torre 3, Piso 16, 1070-274 Lisboa, Portugal

Corporate Headquarters: 100 E. RiverCenter Blvd. | Covington, KY | 41011