

Point-by-point response

Reviewer #1 :

This paper is very interesting and contains a very useful clinical information. It seems very important to measure the angle of the CBD before to perform an ERCP. If the angle is less than 30 degrees, the exploration must be done by an expert. In the rest of cases, this is not relevant.

Answer : Thank you for your comment.