

TO the Revisors of our Manuscript NO 52471

Taking into consideration your proposals to modify the title of our article, we have decided to change it to make the geographical area in which we work more specific. Therefore, the final title would be: "Changing Delta Hepatitis Patient Profile: A Single Center Experience in Valencia Region, Spain.

We have revised the wording of the article to polish up possible grammatical errors as well as omitting certain adjectives that tended to exaggerate or reinforce unnecessarily.

We have completed in all cases the type of immunoglobulin (the IgG) used to detect HBV, HCV, HDV and HIV. We have also eliminated the Australian antigen designation and replaced it with HBsAg.

We have added a paragraph on the cumulative risks of developing cirrhosis and hepatocellular carcinoma according to the year of diagnosis before and after 2000. With this we also intend to complete the information on the dynamic changes that this disease has undergone in the region of Valencia.

Please contact me if you have any queries

Sincerely

Marina Berenguer, MD

Marina.Berenguer@uv.es