

Reviewer's comment:

This is a good comprehensive review. It objectively describes and compares the differences and similarities of radiotherapy in various guidelines for liver cancer, especially clearly explains the professional population in each clinical guideline about the role of radiotherapy for liver cancer. It is very helpful for clinicians, especially radiotherapy doctors. This review has clear logic and focus. This review is important to guide clinical doctors for clinical practice in the radiotherapy for liver cancer.

Authors' reply

We do appreciate your considerate and kind comments. We do hope our humble studies can be at least a small help for the academia of radiation oncology and liver cancer.