

BIOSTATISTIC STATEMENT

Title: The Cardiorenal Syndrome in patients with acute heart failure: Neutrophil Gelatinase-Associated Lipocalin (NGAL) does not predict Acute Kidney Injury in patients admitted to Coronary Intensive Care Unit

The statistical methods of this study were performed by Biostatistician certified at the Department of Public Health, Experimental and Forensic Medicine, Unit of Biostatistics and Clinical Epidemiology, University of Pavia - Via Forlanini, 2 - 27100 Pavia, Italy after a two-years Master of Science.

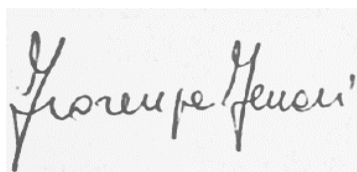

Her certificate is delivered to the concerned person for any purposes for which it may be required.

Pavia, January 10th, 2020

Fiorenza Ferrari MD, MSC

Senior Consultant Intensive Care Unit

I.R.C.C.S Fondazione Policlinico San Matteo- Pavia, Italy

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Fiorenza Ferrari', is shown on a light-colored background.

Address for correspondence:

Fiorenza Ferrari, MD, MSc

Department of Anaesthesia and Intensive Care Unit, University San Matteo Hospital - Pavia, Italy

International Renal Research Institute of Vicenza (IRRIV)

I.R.C.C.S. San Matteo Hospital

Viale Golgi, 19 – 2700 Pavia

Lombardia, Italy

Tel: +39 382502769

Fax: +39 382502486

Email: fioreferrari28@gmail.com