

The Biomedical Ethics Committee of the Libyan International Medical University has found the project titled:

"Colorectal carcinoma in a southern Mediterranean country: the Libyan scenario" to have met all international ethical standards. As such, final approval is provided for this research project.

Chairman

Biomedical Ethics Committee

Date:

12-09-2013