The main corrections are in the manuscript and the responds to the reviewers' comments are as follows.

Replies to the Reviewers' comments:

This is an interesting case report about the robotic surgery in giant multilocular cystadenoma of the prostate. The surgical procedure is very detail, and clear. It will well guide the other clinician for the resection of GMC. Some minor language polsihing should be corrected, please check and revise. I suggest to publish this case in priority.
