

Dear Reviewer:

Thanks for your comments and suggestions concerning our manuscript entitled “Intraoperative systemic vascular resistance is associated with postoperative nausea and vomiting after laparoscopic hysterectomy” (No.58322). Those comments are all valuable and helpful for revising and improving our paper. We have carefully studied them and made some revisions.

The main revisions in the paper are as following:

Responds to the reviewer #2: We have mainly modified the abstract and introduction. And we have explained the reason for $p < 0.1$ in the paper, which is “We chose $p < 0.1$ to analyse more variables in subsequent analysis”.

Responds to the reviewer #3: We have made language polishing again and the introduction has been revised.

We appreciate for reviewers warm work earnestly, and hope that revisions will meet with approval.

Thank you very much for your comments and suggestion.

Sincerely,

Xu Wang
