

The work is well done. The article is very interesting, because this is a retrospective study on 80 patients undergoing liver resection. The data were collected in detail. Statistical analysis is well done. The tables and figure are clear. Despite the great work to select the data, there is an important limitation about the small sample size. This limitation is analyzed in the conclusion.

We appreciated for the kind comments from you and the reviewer, the article highlight, original figures, and PMID, DOI were added in the revision, the file of "Non-Native Speakers of English Editing Certificate" was provided again.