

Reviewer #1:

The case report present by Stremmel et al. is an interesting and well-described one.

Many thanks for your encouraging comments.

Minor comments:

Could the authors offer more information about the infection event occurred on April 2009? (line 152)? How it was diagnosed as it? Etiology?? Please also check some typing errors (line 204) and references not properly cited (line 208).

As suggested, we have added some word about the infection event, corrected typing errors and deleted the reference that was not properly cited.
