SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors describe the case report of the retroperitoneal resection simulated by 3D reconstruction and VR technique. The theme of this study is interesting & the manuscript is well-documented. 1. Please describe the details about the process and program used for 3D reconstruction and VR technology. 2. Please discuss more about the differences between real surgery and VR simulation. 3. I think the quality of CT scans should be essential for identifying the small important tissue like adrenal, ureter or small nerve fibers. Please describe the CT scan. And what do you think about this?
