Specific Comments to Authors: Musculocutaneous lesions [nerve lesions] usually occur proximal to the biceps and brachialis muscles.

Thank you for your comment. As you kindly pointed out, musculocutaneous lesions usually appear proximal to the biceps and brachialis muscles. According to the literature, lesions occur especially when the nerve passes through the coracobrachialis muscle. This was mentioned in the second paragraph of the DISCUSSION.

Specific Comments to Authors: It is a very interesting case report. The article is clear, objective and well written. I think it's important for authors to mention ethical issues in the text.

Thank you for your suggestion. Informed consent was obtained from the patient at the last follow-up visit. We mentioned the ethical issues in the last paragraph of the OUTCOME AND FOLLOW- UP.
