SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

1. When talking about the application of cryotherapy in soft tissues, it should be specified whether it is tendon, muscle or ligament, as it is not the same for each tissue. 2. The use of hyperbaric cryotherapy needs to be better justified, as conventional cryotherapy is initially questioned, but is subsequently indicated as something new and potentially beneficial for patients. Better justification is needed. 3. I encourage the authors to conduct a randomised clinical trial and test the results of this new cryotherapy.
