Dear Author,

I think the topic discussed by the manuscript is very important and interesting. However, I think there were few things that need to be added in the manuscript.

First: Better to add a table that describe and summarize the connection between the medication used for treating inflammatory bowel disease and the effect on diabetes mellitus.

Secondly: Please add the head of section (Result) before writing any explanation of the medication.

Also, mention in detail where applicable about the Study selection, Study characteristics, Risk of bias within studies, Results of individual, Synthesis of results, Risk of bias across studies.

Thank You

Yours,
