SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The manuscript is well-written, concise and can be quite informative to the readers. It contains all crucial aspects of the issue at hand and the updated guidelines. The topic is of interest and the results are of relevance. I would recommend accepting this manuscript for publication. There are some typographic errors. There are very long sentences. To improve readability, consider breaking this into multiple sentences. The authors are encouraged to proof-read thoroughly the text before resubmission. English must be excellent. Notable strengths of the paper are the current references.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This review was well organized and discussion, it reviewed the perioperative effects of non-cardiac surgery on various organs in diabetes and provided some management considerations. Perioperative blood glucose management should be individualized, according to the patient's individual life expectancy assessment, and select the appropriate range of blood glucose and hypoglycemic measurement, it should be description in the table
