Certificate and Confirmation of Service Provided

To whom it may concern,

I, Carole Gustely Cürten, have proofread and corrected the manuscript entitled Thinking about Worry: A Systematic Review of Assessing Metacognition in Children and Adolescents by Laura M Köcher, et al, which is being considered for publication in your journal.

I am a US citizen and native speaker of the English language with a K-12 certification in the State of California to teach English, as well as the Cambridge Certificate for Teaching English as a Second Language. I have over 20 years of experience as a medical editor.

Should you require any additional information or recommendations, please do not hesitate to contact me.
