

To Whom It May Concern,

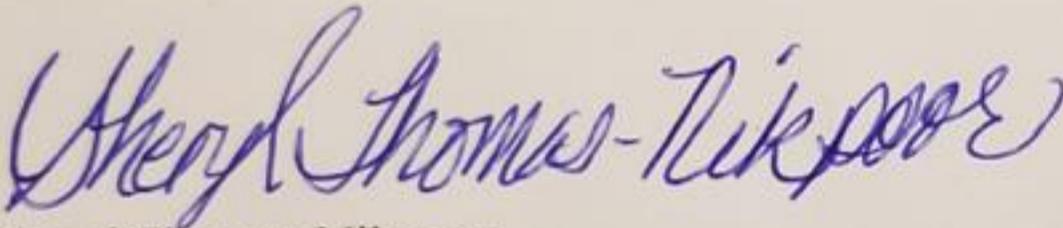

This is to certify that the manuscript entitled "Cholangiocarcinoma and liver transplantation: What we know so far"

was edited by me for fluency, grammar and overall content per the author(s) request.

I am currently a language editor for several journals inside Iran including the Journal of Science and Technology, Transaction A and B, Journal of Veterinary Research, Journal of Veterinary Medicine, Iranian Journal of Chemical Engineering, International Journal of Pediatrics as well as several others via Springer. I also do editing for private individuals for both national and international publication in various fields of science.
