We rewrote the conclusion and, in the discussion, the key findings on which various societies had consensus.

In Introduction, we modified the introduction, underlining the aim of our study. We added informations for some references and details about the pandemic of COVID-19, but in the discussion section. In Materials and Methods we added Boolean operator AND. In results, we used both the spelled-out version and the short form and applied these in the whole text. We completely rewrote the discussion, but we have not found other study to compare our results.
