

Biostatistics statement

Title: Vancomycin lavage can significantly decrease the incidence of acute surgical site infection following primary total hip arthroplasty and total knee arthroplasty

The statistical method in this paper is selected appropriately, and the results obtained are true and reliable.

Name: Hailong Wang

Signature: Hailong Wang

The evidence-based medicine of the First Affiliated Hospital of China
Medical University

Email: 1059050227@qq.com