

This article is a retrospective one with only descriptive data. The authors performed the statistical procedures by themselves, where they have the qualification and ability to perform them. So, the Biostatistics Review Certificate is not applicable here.