evaluation. They have divided the study in to two periods; early being studies earlier than or at 2016 and recent studies that are published at 2017 and later. They state that in recent studies there is no difference in the operative times between the two minimally invasive approach and whereas, in the early studies operative times were shorter in pure laparoscopic approach . The topic is within the scope of the WJG. (1) Classification: Grade D (By the reviewer ID: 00052899). My opinion is that the study is well written and the flow of logic is very good. However, the results of the tsudis not novel (2) Summary of the Peer-Review Report: The study is a meta-analysis that compares laparoscopic versus robotic liver resections. They have performed a very diligent work and the manuscript is well written The comments of the reviewer ID: 00052899: a. Did the authors search other database except for Pubmed, for example Embase? b. The analysis of the heterogeneity of the included studies was not shown. c. 13	The "citation" contains authors' names and manuscript title. The name of the first author should be typed in bold letters; the family (sur) name of all authors should be typed with the first letter capitalized, followed by their abbreviated first and middle initials. 15	The 'INTRODUCTION' section clearly describes the relevant background information for the study. Only the most relevant and current (within the past 5 years) literature is cited, with the exception of rare instances of seminal literature citations. All technical terms and/or abbreviations are explained and/or defined, with the full name of abbreviations given upon first appearance in the text and the abbreviation presented in parentheses [i.e., "...computed tomography (CT)"]. First-person pronouns (e.g., 'I', 'we') are used appropriately to clearly indicate the work performed	[ Y ]

	by the author(s). When weaknesses of previous studies are described in the text to highlight the innovations related to the current study, the information is presented carefully.
16	The 'MATERIALS AND METHODS' section clearly and accurately describes all materials and methods used to obtain the data presented in the article and is adequate for a reader to repeat the study.	[ Y ]
17	The 'RESULTS' section concisely describes the observational and experimental results. Representative data and data that have scientific significance are emphasized. Data is presented in either the text, a table or figure ( i.e. , chart, diagram, graph or image), but is not repeated among each. Information presented in the tables and figures clearly describes the trends, meaning, and inferences. Results described in textual form are accurate, concise and clear.	[ Y ]
18	Statistical symbols are accurate. Statistical significance is expressed as <sup>a</sup> $P < 0.05$ , <sup>b</sup> $P < 0.01$ ( $P > 0.05$ usually does not need to be denoted). If there are other series of $P$ values, <sup>c</sup> $P < 0.05$ and <sup>d</sup> $P < 0.01$ are used, and a third series of $P$ values is expressed as <sup>e</sup> $P < 0.05$ and <sup>f</sup> $P < 0.01$ . Statistical data is expressed as mean $\pm$ SD or mean $\pm$ SE.	[ Y ]

19	The 'DISCUSSION' section (1) describes the main purpose and hypothesis of the study; (2) summarizes the most important results; (3) illustrates and explains the results (but does not simply repeat the data) and draws conclusions or inferences based on the results; (4) points out the limitations of the study and their impact on the results, as well as proposes further advice on future research topic(s) or direction(s); and (5) describes the theoretical significance and practical value of the findings.	[ Y ]
20	The 'ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS' section expresses gratitude to any individuals or organizations for technical support ( i.e. , providing instrumentation, equipment or experimental materials, and/or assistance in experimental work), non-technical services ( i.e. , useful inspiration, suggestions, guidance, or review), and/or any other auxiliary work.	[ N ]
21	The 'ARTICLE HIGHLIGHTS' section provides comments for original articles in accordance with the specified format.	[ Y ]
22	The 'REFERENCES' section lists the references in the Vancouver style. This style uses Arabic numeral in-text citations based on the order of the first appearance of a source in the text. For citations where the author's name is indicated in the text, a superscript number should be placed following the name ( i.e. , "Pang et al "). For citations where no author is indicated, a superscript number should be placed at the end of the sentence. Respective examples are: "Ma <sup>[1]</sup> reported .....", "Pan et al <sup>[2-5]</sup> indicated ....." ; "PCR has a high sensitivity <sup>[6,9]</sup> ." No superscript numbers are used when the reference number is described in the text; for example, "The experimental method used has been described in reference [8]." The style of reference citations in tables is the same as that in the text ( e.g. , Pan et al <sup>[2-5]</sup> , please see reference [8]).	[ Y ]

23	Journal references have been verified to ensure that there are no duplicate references and that the PMID numbers are correct. For references not yet included in PubMed: the name of Chinese journals is spelled out using Chinese Pinyin, with the first letter of each word capitalized ( e.g. , Shijie Huaren Xiaohua Zazhi ); the name of journals in other languages are listed according to indexing information retrieved from Google. Book references are presented with all the information relevant to the electronic version.	[ Y ]
24	The number of cited references is appropriate for the article type, as follows: Commentary : no less than 50; Review : no less than 100; Article : no less than 30/26; Case Report and Letter to the Editor : no less than 1.	[ Y ]

26	The names of the peer reviewers and the scientific editor are present at the end of the paper ( e.g. , P-Reviewer: Hugot D S-Editor: Wang JL).	[ Y ]
27	The order and numerical labeling of tables and figures is consistent with their appearance and presentation in the text. Symbols in tables ( e.g. , +, -, ×, ÷, *) correctly correspond to the definitions in the footnotes. Only one legend is provided for each multi-panel figure consisting of color graphs, black and white graphs, or line graphs that depicts data of the same theme. For example: Figure 1 Pathological changes in atrophic gastritis tissue before and after treatment. A: ...; B: ...; C: ...; D: ...; E: ...; F: ....	[ Y ]
