Pros and Cons of Continuous Glucose Monitoring in the Intensive Care Unit

Dear Editor:

Thank you very much for the opportunity to revise our manuscript. We have revised our paper using point-by-point response to the reviewers' comments and highlighted in red as follow.

Dear Authors, Thank you for your contribution. The manuscript is about general comments on pros and cons of continuous glucose monitoring. I recommend following suggestions to reconsider your manuscript. Please answer pointwise and incorporate all the changes in suitable places for us to be clear about the revised/edited manuscript. Thank you for your contribution.

1. Images: Please provide reference for figures, please mention for the purpose of copyright etc.

Response:

Thank you very much for this kindly comment.

The reference of figures was obtained from the first author Dr. Sun and we agreed to transfer the copyright to the World Journal of Clinical Cases.

2. Please check for typographical and grammatical errors throughout.

Response: The manuscript has been edited by the American Journal of Experts and the certificate was provided.
