Science Editor: 1 Scientific quality: The manuscript describes a retrospective study of the expression of Notch pathway components in colorectal tumors. The topic is within the scope of the WJG. (1) Classification: Grade D; (2) Summary of the Peer-Review Report: This work is aim to investigate TNS4 protein expression in GC tissues and analysis with clinical and histopathological parameters. However, the TNS4 expression in GC patients has been reported, so, the novelty of this topic is lacking. Moreover, there are major weaknesses need to be improved: 1. Though TNS4 expression was investigated in GC patients, just 89 GC patients used in this study are far from sufficient to verify clinical significance. We strongly suggested that a larger GC cohort should be used for further verification. 2. Loss of function strategy should be used to investigate the potential role of TNS4 in cell proliferation using GC cell lines in vitro and in vivo. The questions raised by the reviewers should be answered; (3) Format: There are 2 tables and 3 figures; (4) References: A total of 36 references are cited, including 6 references published in the last 3 years; (5) Self-cited references: There are no self-cited references; (6) References recommendations: No improper references request noted; 2 Language evaluations: Classification: Grade B and language editing certificate issued by language editing expert was provided. 3 Academic norms and rules: The authors have provided biostatistics review certificate, institutional animal care and use committee approval form, institutional review board approval form, non-native speaker English editing certificate-however all these certificates/forms are not signed by any of the others. Additionally authors did not provide signed conflict of interest disclosure form, copyright license agreement and written informed consent. No academic misconduct was found by the Google/Bing search. 4 Supplementary comments: This is an unsolicited manuscript. The study was supported by the Medical Bialystok, Poland University of (grant no. SUB/1/DN/20/002/3314). The topic has not previously been published in the WJG. 5 Issues raised: (1) The authors did not provide the approved grant application form(s). Please upload the approved grant application form(s) or funding agency copy(ies) of any approval document(s); (2) The authors did not provide original pictures. Please provide the original figure files. Please prepare and arrange the figures using PowerPoint to ensure that all graphs or arrows or text portions can be reprocessed by the editor; (3) PMID and DOI numbers are missing in the reference list. Please provide the PubMed Numbers and DOI citation numbers to the reference list and list all authors of the references. Please revise throughout; (4) The "Article Highlights" section is missing. Please add the "Article Highlights" section at the end of the main text (and directly before the References); 6 Re-Review: Required. 7 Recommendation: Transfer to another journal such as World Journal of Clinical Oncology.

Company Editor-in-Chief: I recommend the manuscript to be published in the World Journal of Clinical Oncology.

3	The fixed headings are copied.	[Y]
	The title concisely summarizes the main topic of the study and is not too long (no more than 18 words). Words such as 'exploration', 4	'research', 'analysis', 'observation', and 'investigation' are avoided.	[Y]
	The title does not start with 'The' and does not include any Arabic numbers or uncommon abbreviations.
5	A short running title is provided (no more than 6 words).	[Y]
	The authors' full family (sur)names and full/abbreviated first 6	names are listed on the title page and are consistent with those	[Y]
	listed in the signed BPG Copyright License Agreement form.
	The 'Author contributions' passage describes the specific contribution(s) made by each author. The author's names are listed in the following format: full family (sur)name followed by abbreviated first and middles names.
	e.g., "Wang CL and Liang L contributed equally to this work; Wang and core contents of the paper and will serve to effectively attract readers.

	The 'INTRODUCTION' section clearly describes the relevant background information for the study. Only the most relevant and current (within the past 5 years) literature is cited, with the exception of rare instances of seminal literature citations. All technical terms and/or abbreviations are explained and/or defined,
15	with the full name of abbreviations given upon first appearance in	[Y]
10	the text and the abbreviation presented in parentheses [i.e.,	[-]
	"computed tomography (CT)"]. First-person pronouns (e.g., 'I',
	'we') are used appropriately to clearly indicate the work performed by the author(s). When weaknesses of previous studies are described in the text to highlight the innovations related to the current study, the information is presented carefully.
	The 'MATERIALS AND METHODS' section clearly and accurately
16	describes all materials and methods used to obtain the data	[1]
10	presented in the article and is adequate for a reader to repeat the	[Y] study.
	The 'RESULTS' section concisely describes the observational and experimental results. Representative data and data that have scientific significance are emphasized. Data is presented in either 17	the text, a table or figure (i.e., chart, diagram, graph or image), but is	[Y] not repeated among each. Information presented in the tables and figures clearly describes the trends, meaning, and inferences.
	Results described in textual form are accurate, concise and clear.
	Statistical symbols are accurate. Statistical significance is expressed 18	as ${}^{a}P$ < 0.05, ${}^{b}P$ < 0.01 (P > 0.05 usually does not need to be denoted).
	If there are other series of P values, $^{c}P < 0.05$ and $^{d}P < 0.01$ are used,	[Y] and a third series of P values is expressed as $^{\rm e}P$ < 0.05 and $^{\rm f}P$ < 0.01.
	Statistical data is expressed as mean \pm SD or mean \pm SE.

19	The 'DISCUSSION' section (1) describes the main purpose and hypothesis of the study; (2) summarizes the most important results; (3) illustrates and explains the results (but does not simply repeat the data) and draws conclusions or inferences based on the results; (4) points out the limitations of the study and their impact on the results, as well as proposes further advice on future research topic(s) or direction(s); and (5) describes the theoretical significance and practical value of the findings.	[Y]
20	The 'ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS' section expresses gratitude to any individuals or organizations for technical support (i.e. , providing instrumentation, equipment or experimental materials, and/or assistance in experimental work), non-technical services (i.e. , useful inspiration, suggestions, guidance, or review), and/or any other auxiliary work.	[Y]
21	The 'ARTICLE HIGHLIGHTS' section provides comments for original articles in accordance with the specified format.	[Y]
22	The 'REFERENCES' section lists the references in the Vancouver style. This style uses Arabic numeral in-text citations based on the order of the first appearance of a source in the text. For citations where the author's name is indicated in the text, a superscript number should be placed following the name (i.e. , "Pang et al "). For citations where no author is indicated, a superscript number should be placed at the end of the sentence. Respective examples are: "Ma ^[1] reported", "Pan et al ^[2-5] indicated"; "PCR has a high sensitivity ^[6,9] ." No superscript numbers are used when the reference number is described in the text; for example, "The experimental method used has been described in reference [8]." The style of reference citations in tables is the same as that in the text (e.g. , Pan et al ^[2-5] , please see reference [8]).	[Y]
