evaluation and management of anemia in cirrhosis. . The topic is rather within the scope of the World Journal of Hepatology. (1) Classification: Grade C; (2) Summary of the Peer-Review Report: The level of information in this manuscript is similar to other published papers on this issue, and I am afraid that this manuscript does not add significant information compared to previous literature (Gkamprela et al., 2017; Patel et al, 2017). Proposal for authors: 1. Improve the Introduction section (which is similar to other papers) 2. improve on the explanations regarding the pathophysiology of anemia in liver cirrhosis by including recent information and am accompanying figure, detailed role of hepcidin in anemia of inflammation and its role as a biochemical marker in anemia of liver cirrhosis, 3. improve on discussion and conclusion section (add more information on future perspectives regarding different aspects of anemia in cirrhosis). The questions raised by the reviewers should be answered; (3) Format: There are 2 tables and (4) References: A total of 60 references are cited, 2 figures; including 14 references published in the last 3 years; (5) Self-cited references: There are 1 self-cited references. References recommendations: The authors have the right to refuse to cite improper references recommended by the peer reviewer(s), especially those published by the peer reviewer(s) him/herself (themselves). If the authors find the peer reviewer(s) request for the authors to cite improper references published by him/herself (themselves), please send the peer reviewer's ID number to

	The 'INTRODUCTION' section clearly describes the relevant background information for the study. Only the most relevant and current (within the past 5 years) literature is cited, with the exception of rare instances of seminal literature citations. All technical terms and/or abbreviations are explained and/or defined, 15	with the full name of abbreviations given upon first appearance in	[2/]
	the text and the abbreviation presented in parentheses [i.e.,	[Y]
	"computed tomography (CT)"]. First-person pronouns (e.g., 'I',
	'we') are used appropriately to clearly indicate the work performed by the author(s). When weaknesses of previous studies are described in the text to highlight the innovations related to the current study, the information is presented carefully.
	The 'MATERIALS AND METHODS' section clearly and accurately
4.0	describes all materials and methods used to obtain the data
16	presented in the article and is adequate for a reader to repeat the	[N] study.
	The 'RESULTS' section concisely describes the observational and experimental results. Representative data and data that have scientific significance are emphasized. Data is presented in either 17	the text, a table or figure (i.e., chart, diagram, graph or image), but is	[N] not repeated among each. Information presented in the tables and figures clearly describes the trends, meaning, and inferences.
	Results described in textual form are accurate, concise and clear.
	Statistical symbols are accurate. Statistical significance is expressed as ${}^{a}P$ < 0.05, ${}^{b}P$ < 0.01 (P > 0.05 usually does not need to be denoted).
18	If there are other series of P values, $^{c}P < 0.05$ and $^{d}P < 0.01$ are used,	[N] and a third series of P values is expressed as $^{\rm e}P$ < 0.05 and $^{\rm f}P$ < 0.01.
	Statistical data is expressed as mean \pm SD or mean \pm SE.

The 'DISCUSSION' section (1) describes the main purpose and hypothesis of the study: (2) summarizes the most important results; (3) illustrates and explains the results (but does not simply repeat the data) and draws conclusions or inferences based on the results; (4) points out the limitations of the study and their impact on the results, as well as proposes further advice on future research topic(s) or direction(s); and (5) describes the theoretical significance and practical value of the findings. The 'ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS' section expresses gratitude to any individuals or organizations for technical support (i.e., providing instrumentation, equipment or experimental materials, and/or assistance in experimental work), non-technical services (i.e., useful inspiration, suggestions, guidance, or review), and/or any other auxiliary work. The 'ARTICLE HIGHLIGHTS' section provides comments for original articles in accordance with the specified format. The 'REFERENCES' section lists the references in the Vancouver style. This style uses Arabic numeral in-text citations based on the order of the first appearance of a source in the text. For citations where the author's name is indicated in the text, a superscript number should be placed following the name (i.e.,, "Pang et al"). For citations where no author is indicated, a superscript number should be placed at the end of the sentence. Respective examples are: "Mal"! reported", "Pan et all ²⁻³ indicated, a superscript number should be placed at the end of the sentence. The style of reference citations in tables is the same as that in the text (e.g., Pan et all ²⁻³), please see reference [8]).
