

The results and statistics included in this paper were solely descriptive in nature and blindly reviewed by all authors individually. All data was assessed cumulatively before being appropriated to the weighted algorithm designed by this study, and therefore no biostatistics were involved in the analysis of said data.