

24th September 2021

To whom it may concern

Title- Testosterone therapy reduces hepatic steatosis in men with type 2 diabetes and low serum testosterone concentrations

This letter confirms that patients were not required to give informed consent as the analysis used anonymous data from the original trial, for which they provided informed, written consent.

Sincerely,

Dr Ross Apostolov

Corresponding Author

Ross.apostolov1@gmail.com