

Institutional Review Board approval form

The study was done using a national database (UNOS) that is publicly available. The datasets are de-identified and therefore exempt from IRB approval.