Scientific Quality: Grade A (Excellent)

Language Quality: Grade A (Priority publishing)

Conclusion: Accept (General priority)

Specific Comments to Authors: A very fantastic paper. Although as you stated there some discrepancies in literature you had some results resembling some single centres as one published from Turkey. In that paper as in yours, there was a number diagnosed by routine screening with CT primarily mortality resembles your results. very big databases as you mentioned are heterogenous. we know some centres with very high mortality. but most of time as many papers early admission and follow up was a key.
