Dear Prof. Xue-Li Chen,

On behalf of the co-authors, I am submitting the manuscript entitled “Application of machine learning in oral and maxillofacial surgery”. However, the submission process required English Editing Certificate.

Firstly, please allow me to introduce the co-author Dr. Lei Liu. He has participated in many international academic activities over the past 15 years. And he is editorial board member of several scientific journals. Dr. Lei Liu served World J Stem Cells as editorial board member from 2010 to 2020 and currently is editorial board member of World J Stomatology. Since 2009, he is international faculty of Arbeitsgemeinschaft für Osteosynthesefragen (AO/ASIF). Dr. Lei Liu has written and published over 80 original scientific and reviews.

Besides, please allow me to introduce myself. I have been to the Departments of Biomedical Sciences at College of Dentistry in Texas A&M University as a visiting scholar from Oct 2017 to Dec 2019. In 2019, I have won Young Investigator Award of IADR/AADR/CADR Meeting for the abstract “A Low Phosphorus Accelerates Cell Transdifferentiation from Cartilage to Bone”. All the published papers from these two authors are listed below.

Here, I would like to mention that it is an invited manuscript and Dr. Lei Liu and I have rich experience in English paper writing and editing. We have revised and edited the language of this manuscript for minimizing errors and meeting the requirements of academic publishing. Hence, I would like to request you to consider our review article without any English Editing Certificate.

Sincerely yours,

Hui Li
