Dear Editor,

This is to certify that the manuscript NO.:75084, a Minireview entitled "Pulmonary Complications of Portal Hypertension: The Overlooked Decompensation," authored by Rares Craciun et al. from the "Iuliu Hațieganu" University of Medicine and Pharmacy, Cluj-Napoca, has been revised for the accuracy of the English language, and we can guarantee that the level of the English language in this manuscript meets international standards.

Our company specializes in professional medical translations – we have translated and revised numerous American English and British English manuscripts published in prestigious journals. Also, I am an established English Editor for multiple Romanian International medical journals and, as a native English speaker, have over 20 years of experience in such work.
