Re: Certificate of English Language Editing

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Megan Trow. I earned an MA degree in Linguistics from the University of Pittsburgh while conducting graduate work in teaching composition and editing Ph.D. dissertations for foreign graduate students. I received Fellowships from Fulbright New Century Scholars, Google Certified Teachers, and the National Writing Project. In addition, I received certification from College Board to teach Advanced Placement English Language and Composition, I currently serve as an Executive Board Member of Oregon Virtual Academy and as an academic consultant for various companies and organizations.

I have been asked by the authors of the manuscript (No. 76229) titled: "Does COVID-19 related symptomatology indicate a transdiagnostic neuropsychiatric disorder? Multidisciplinary implications" to edit the manuscript from its "Grade B (minor language polishing)" status to grade A, so that it meets the standards of Academic Publishing.

I have carefully edited this manuscript and provided the authors with a version including editing corrections. These address, among other concerns, editing the manuscript for clarity, italic font of Latin words, biomedical terms, correct grammar, sentence structure, spelling, use of prepositions, conjunctions, abbreviations, punctuation, verb tenses, and active voice and passive voice.

I have checked the revised version and now that all my concerns have been addressed. I hereby certify that the language of the manuscript has reached grade A.

Thank you for the opportunity to ascertain the certification of completing English Language editing for the authors of this manuscript.

Sincerely,

Megan Trow
