

The article is a retrospective article. Consent was not needed as we did not expose any patient's data