

English Language editing statement

To Whom It May Concern,

InPrint has provided editing services for Manuscript NO: 79221 (Colon mucosal injury caused by water jet malfunction during a screening colonoscopy: Case report) by Parth Patel and Chien-Huan Chen, which is under consideration for publication in your journal.

The InPrint team has carefully reviewed and edited the document for English language use, concision, writing structure, and clarity. InPrint is a scientific communication network and resource that provides confidential editing, schema design, and presentation consulting to the Washington University community.

The edited manuscript has achieved Grade A: priority publishing; no language polishing required after editing.

Should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us at inprint@wustl.edu.

Thank you,

Managing editor Jennie Hazen (hazenje@wustl.edu), first editor Maria Cimpean (mcimpean@wustl.edu), and the InPrint Editing Team

Thank you for submitting to InPrint! We appreciate your feedback! Please leave us a review at inprintscience.wustl.edu/feedback/