

Dear Editor,

Although we did not use the language editing services provided by the biomedical editing companies for our manuscript, we believe that the quality of the text is high. In fact, Simona Imbriani, co-author of the manuscript, holds a B2 level certification from the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). Simona Imbriani reviewed the manuscript and approved the final version.

I trust that the quality of the text will be in accordance with your standards.

Best regards
