To Whom It May Concern,

I, Dr. Zoltan Herold (Applied biostatistician, degree given by University of Veterinary Medicine, Budapest, Hungary) reviewed the statistical analysis and methodology for the Manuscript entitled „Clinical data analysis of primary gastric cancer patients with peritoneal metastases, who underwent cytoreductive surgery with HIPEC” by Heinrich Steinhoff, Miklos Acs, Sebastian Blaj, Magdolna Dank, Magdolna Herold, Zoltan Herold, Jonas Herzberg, Patricia Sánchez-Velázquez, Tim Strate, Attila Marcell Szasz & Pompiliu Piso, which is under consideration for publication in World Journal of Gastroenterology. The statistical methods and techniques used in the manuscript are appropriate for the research.

Should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.
