

We did not collect a consent form as the study was an observational study that was part of our daily practice in the Intensive Care Unit after introducing the prevention bundle according to the international recommendation.

The ethical committee did not ask for a consent form.