

Informed Consent

There was no direct patient contact and no intervention. It was just a retrospective review of files and images that is why the patient consent was waived by the ethical review committee.