

Dear Editor,

My name is Katerina Oikonomou and I am currently an ICU attending at General Hospital of Larisa, Greece. I am also one of the authors of the submitted paper and I performed the English editing for the submitted revised manuscript, so that the revised manuscript meets the publication requirement.

From 2014-2020, I was working as a physician in prestigious hospitals in the USA. I speak and write English fluently. I am the author in several other publications (>20) and I am very familiar with the medical terminology as well.

Thank you for your kind invitation to submit our work to your journal and we hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Katerina Oikonomou
