

language modified certificate letter

Dears,

Language problems of manuscript No. 8818 have been modified completely by the corresponding author prof Hongfang Li who had written by herself and published same field English academic papers in World J Gastroenterol (2008;14:4955-4960.) and other journals such as Can J Physiol Pharmacol (2001; 79: 545-550), Acta Pharmacologica Sinica (2004;25: 313-318), Physiol Res (2006;55:365-372) and Eur J Pharmacol (2008;597:70-74) etc.

Particularly, a very experienced English teacher, Prof Xiaohong Duan who works in Foreign Language College of Lanzhou University, has helped us to read and correct the language problems.

Because we have revised English language of the manuscript very carefully for several times, so we believe that the revised manuscript should be excellent.

Additionally, we have not handed our paper to a professional English language editing companies because we consulted some companies, and knew their editing fee is very expensive. Our research funds are very limited and we can not afford such high editing fee, because publishing fee is also very high, otherwise we have to pay for editing fee by ourselves.

We all authors are sorry for giving you so much troubles. Thank you very much!

Sincerely yours,
Hongfang Li
