

BIostatistic Statement:

The statistical analysis of the data in this study was conducted in accordance with the principles of biostatistics. All statistical analyses were performed by a biomedical statistician (Xiao-ting Li) using appropriate statistical software, and the results were interpreted with careful consideration of the study design and potential confounding factors.