

Response to reviewer's comments

Comments	Authors' response
Diabetes affects everyone, regardless of their social background. Both government and non-governmental organisations should focus on improving the quality of diabetes care services, basic healthcare amenities, and health-awareness programme services to facilitate the provision of efficient medical care services to diabetic patients. This topic is meaningful.	Thanks for your comments.
This manuscript should be accepted in this style	Thanks for your comments.