

This study has been reviewed and approved by the ethical review board and does not require any further approval. The data used in this study is from the United States public database SEER.