Title: Proton pump inhibitor responsive esophageal eosinophilia, a distinct disease entity?

Author: William Munday and Xuchen Zhang

Name of Journal: World Journal of Gastroenterology

ESPS Manuscript NO: 9113

The manuscript has been improved according to the suggestions of reviewers:

1. Comment and Answer for Reviewer 1

Reviewer 1: This is an interesting article with points on the consideration of the recently recognized proton pump inhibitor esophageal eosinophilia as a distinct disease entity while in the conclusion the authors suggest that according to the existed data it should be considered in the spectrum of GERD. In general is a well written manuscript and the authors suggestion are supported by their arguments. I believe though that inclusion of a table with the specific features and clinicopathological characteristics of the entities discussed would be of great help for the reader.

Reply 1: Thank you for reviewing our paper and suggestion for including a table with features of the entities discussed. The table has been added in the revised manuscript.

2. Comment and Answer for Reviewer 2

Reviewer 2: This is an excellent paper giving important data on the differential diagnosis of GERD vs EoE and a new entity PPI-REE in between.

Reply 2: Thank you for reviewing our paper.

3. A word document of the manuscript along with a table is provided as the editor's request

Thank you again for publishing our manuscript in the World Journal of Gastroenterology.

Sincerely yours,

William Munday, MD, PhD and Xuchen Zhang, MD, PhD
