

Language Certificate

Dear Editor,

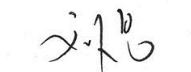

Glad to have the chance to revise our manuscript. We believe that our manuscript (No.9175) has possibly reached language grade A. The following is some evidence:

1. The authors in this manuscript, Yafeng Dong, is from Department of Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of Kansas School of Medicine, Kansas 66160, USA. He's very experienced in English research writing. Some of this manuscript were written and revised by Dr. Yafeng Dong himself for several times, to meet the language meeting of WJG.

2. We have asked Dr. Lei Zhou from Harvard Medical School (Assistant Investigator, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Email: lzhou2@bidmc.harvard.edu) to revise this manuscript again.

3. As the first author, I have also published one article in the WJG (World J Gastroenterol. 2012;18(48):7242-7250) before without revision of the professional companies, so I think our manuscript have reached your criteria.

We guarantee that our manuscript (No. 9175) has reached the language Grade A, and if it doesn't pass the language censorship before acceptance, we have to make other choices.
