

Re: Manuscript NO:92104

Dear Editor-in-Chief Ma,

We have attached a copy of our revised manuscript entitled "Research progress on venous thrombosis development in patients with malignant tumors". We want to thank you and the reviewers for carefully reading the manuscript and the helpful comments. Those comments are all valuable and very helpful for revising and improving our paper, as well as important guiding significance to our researches. We have carefully addressed the reviewer's questions and the editorial office's comments point-by-point (please refer to the following pages for the details of change).

As suggested, we have revised and supplemented the text of the article according to the comments of reviewers, and polished the language of the article again. We have adjusted the content of the supplementary material.

We believe that the revised manuscript has been substantially improved and hope it meets the standard for publication in the World Journal of Clinical Cases. We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Si-xing Ma, Ph. D., Professor

Specific Comments to Authors:

I read with great interest the Manuscript titled " Research progress on venous thrombosis development in patients with malignant tumors.", topic interesting enough to attract readers' attention. Although the manuscript can be considered already of good quality, I would suggest following recommendations: - I suggest a round of language revision, in order to correct few typos and improve readability. - I suggest reading and add recent evidences about the importance of adequate management in patients with malignant tumors, also with gynecological cancer, with the aim to improve prognosis and the possibility of tailored management considering results of this study. - I suggest that authors to add a reference about importance of a correct and complete evaluation of patients with cancer, considering various comorbidity, older age and the possible application of the comorbidity index to predict survival. I would be glad if the authors discuss this important point. Because of these reasons, the article should be revised and completed. Considering all these points, I think it could be of interest to the readers and, in my opinion, it deserves the priority to be published after minor revisions.

Response: Thank you for your suggestion. We have tried our best to improve the manuscript and have made some changes in the manuscript.

1, We have revised the manuscript by a professional English language editing company in order to improve the quality of the English language of the manuscript.

2. We think this is an excellent suggestion. We have carefully read the articles related to a wide range of tumors, including gynecologic cancers, and have summarized and organized them under the question. We have re-written this part according to the Reviewer's suggestion and highlighted the original research finding.

Language polishing requirements for revised manuscripts submitted by authors who are non-native speakers of English

As the revision process results in changes to the content of the manuscript, language problems may exist in the revised manuscript. Thus, it is necessary to perform further language polishing that will ensure all grammatical, syntactical, formatting and other related errors be resolved, so that the revised manuscript will meet the publication requirement (Grade A).

Response: The Manuscript was subjected to Charlesworth Experts editing service.
